RUSSIANS DEFEATED ON THE YALU RIVER

GENERAL KUROKI'S ARMY ADMINISTERS A CRUSHING BLOW TO CZAR'S FORCES.

BOTH SIDES LOSE HEAVILY

EIGHT HUNDRED RUSSIANS AND SEVEN HUNDRED JAPS ARE DEAD OR WOUNDED.

BRILLIANT CHARGE BY JAPS

ROUT RUSSIANS FROM A STRONG POSITION AND TAKE MANY GUNS AND PRISONERS.

Tokio, May 2.—The Russians were forced to abandon Antung Sunday. They burned the town and retreated to Fenghuancheng.

The Japanese now control the estuary of the Yalu.

Tokio, May 2.—After five days of fighting, largely with artillery, the First Japanese army under General Kuroki has forced the crossing of the Yalu river and Sunday with a gallant infantry charge, covering a frontage of four miles, it drove the Russians from Chitiencheng and the heights on the right bank of the Iho or Alda river, which enters the Yalu from the north, almost opposite Wiju. The Japanese turned the left flank of the Russian position and in the battle of Sunday they swept away the new front interposed by the Russians to check their onward movement.

The present position of the Japanese is a dominating one, and they may force the abandonment of the defenses erected by the Russians at Antung and other points lower down the river. General Kuroki began the movement on Tuesday by ordering a detachment of the imperial guards division to seize the island of Kurito, which is in the Yalu above Wiju and the detachment of the Second division to seize the island of Kinteto, which is situated below Wiju.

The detachment of the imperial guards met with some resistance, but it succeeded in clearing the enemy out and occupied Kurito island. The Russians abandoned the island of Kinteto when attacked by the detachment of the Second division.

Actual Losses Unknown.

The actual losses sustained by the detachment of the imperial guards is not known, as there is an error in that part of the message received here referring to the number killed, but nine of the detachment were severely and sixteen slightly wounded. The detachment of the Second division which took the island of Kinteto sustained no losses.

During these movements on the islands the Russians opened fire on the Japanese with eight 9.2 centimeter guns from a hill behind Chitiencheng and two Hotchkiss guns which were mounted on the bank of the river at Kusan, where the Russians seemed to have established their headquarters. One battery of Japanese artillery which had taken a position on a hill to the east of Wiju fired three volleys at Kusan and at noon of Tuesday the Russian batteries behind Chitiencheng shelled Wiju, wounding one Japanese soldier with shrapnel.

On Wednesday, the Russians resumed the bombardment of Wiju, firing at intervals throughout the day. The Japanese artillery did not respond to this fire.

General Kuroki has received reports to the effect that the Russians are fortifying the heights on the right bank of the Iho river. These new defenses are declared to extend from Chitiencheng through the village of Makao to Koshoki, a distance of three and a quarter miles.

Bombardment Ineffective.

The Russians resumed their bombardment on Thursday but it was generally ineffective. Subsequently General Kuroki ordered two companies of the imperial guards to cross the Yalu and make a reconnaissance along the left bank of the Iho for the purpose of discovering the character of the Russian fortifications along the heights on the right bank of the river. The Japanese force advanced toward Kusan, and then dispatched a small detachment to the village, where a party of Russians was encountered. In the engagement which followed five Russians were killed. The Russians shelled the reconnoitering party from an emplacement in the hills in the southeast part of Yoshoko. This fire was without effect.

The Russian artillery on the hill behind Chitiencheng, firing at a high angle, opened on Wiju, the island of Kinteto and Seikodo, to the south of Wiju, where some Japanese batteries had taken position. This firing continued until Thursday night and General Kuroki reports that while it was ineffective, it disturbed his preparation for an attack. The Twelfth regiment the shelling of Wiju on Friday but the Japanese guns did not reply. The Twelfth division of the Japanese army was chosen to make the first crossing of the Yalu. It began its preparations on Friday by driving the Russians from the position on the bank of the river opposite Shokochin, which is eight miles above Wiju, and the point selected for the crossing.

Division Crossed in One Day.

This division constructed a pontoon bridge over the river and at 3 o'clock Saturday morning it began crossing. The entire division passed over the river during the day and by 6 o'clock Saturday evening it was in the position assigned to it for the battle of Sunday.

The movement of the Twelfth Japanese division was covered by the Second regiment of field artillery and another artillery regiment of heavy guns.

At twenty minutes to 11 o'clock Saturday morning, the Russian artillery posted to the north and to the east of Chitiencheng began shelling the patrols of Japanese infantry which had been dispatched from Kinteto island to Chukodai, another island north of Kinteto, and under Chitiencheng. The Japanese batteries replied to this shelling and silenced the Russian fire. Later eight Russian guns posted on a hill to the east of the village of Makao opened upon the imperial guards. To this shelling the Japanese artillery to the east of Wiju responded and the Russians ceased firing.

Then both the Chitiencheng and the Makao batteries reopened and this fire brought a vigorous response from the chain of Japanese batteries on the Korean side of the river. The Russians' guns fired for two hours before they were silenced. In his report General Kuroki expressed the belief that his shelling was very effective against the Russians.

Gunboats Scattered Russians.

The Japanese losses in the bombardment of Saturday were 2 men killed and 5 officers and 22 men wounded. A flotilla of gunboats from the squadron of Admiral Hosoya participated in the fighting of Saturday. It encountered a mixed force of Russian infantry, cavalry and artillery on the Manchurian bank of the Yalu below Antung, and after a sharp fight scattered them to the hills.

A bridge across the main stream of the Yalu just above Wiju was completed at 8 o'clock Saturday night and the Second Japanese division and the imperial guards immediately began crossing. They advanced and occupied the hills back of Kusan, facing the Russian position on the right bank of the river.

All through Saturday night regiment after regiment of Japanese soldiers poured across the bridge, and at a late hour Saturday night General Kuroki telegraphed to the general staff of the army:

"I will attack the enemy on May 1 at dawn."

True to his promise, General Kuroki at daylight Sunday centered all his artillery on the Russian position between Chitiencheng and Yoshoko. To this fire the Russians made reply with all their batteries.

Japs Charged Through a River.

At 7 o'clock in the morning the Russian battery at Yoshoko was silenced and half an hour later General Kuroki ordered his line, stretching for four miles, to attack. The Japanese infantry, on the word of command, charged across the Iho, wading that stream breast deep, and began storming the heights at fifteen minutes past eight.

At 9 o'clock they had swept the Russian line back across the plateau. The Russian force is estimated at 30,000 men all told.

A supplemental report from General Kuroki covering Sunday's fighting says:

"The Russians made two stands. The enemy's strength included all of the Third division, two regiments of the Sixth division, one cavalry brigade, about 40 quick-firing guns and 8 machine guns. We have taken twenty-eight quick-firing guns, many rifles, much ammunition, more than twenty officers and many non-commissioned officers and men as prisoners."

"I am informed that Major Kashtalinsky, commander of the Third East Siberian rifles brigade, and Lieutenant General Zossalitch, commander of the Second Siberian army corps, were wounded."

"Our casualties numbered about 700 and the Russian loss is more than 800 men."

JAPS WORRYING ALEXIEFF.

Let Him Intercept Fake Wireless Orders to Land Troops, Etc.

Port Arthur, May 2.—Details of the demonstration off Port Arthur on April 27 discloses the desperate ingenuity of the Japanese. Their squadron set afloat a string-connected raft carrying burning materials. About 1:40 a. m., when five miles off shore, the combustibles were fired, the wind and waves bringing the burning floats toward the harbor.

Under cover of this screen of fire eight Japanese torpedo boats towing a launch filled with mines slipped around to a spot near where the Petropavlovsk was sunk, but they were detected by Russian searchlights, when the batteries opened fire and drove them off, but not before the mines had been sown. The mines have since been destroyed.

The Japanese, knowing that the Russians would intercept wireless messages, tried a neat trick to deceive and worry Viceroy Alexieff. For several nights in succession they sent by wireless telegraphy orders to prepare for a landing, to send in fire ships, to attack with submarine boats, etc.

ADMIT GREAT LOSSES

RUSSIANS SAY THE JAPANESE ARTILLERY FIRE DECIMATED THEIR FORCES.

FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS

FIVE THOUSAND RUSSIANS ARE TRYING TO IMPEDE JAPANESE ADVANCE.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—The first Japanese army under General Kuroki, consisting of the guards and the Second and Twelfth divisions, according to official and private advices from the front, crossed the Yalu Sunday about thirty miles above the mouth of the river, near Khilientse, where the river bends abruptly to the eastward. For three days less than 5,000 Russians, under Generals Sasulitch, Mischenko and Kashtalinsky, have been along the Manchurian side of the river and have been harassing and impeding the crossing of the Japanese very successfully, despite their hopeless inferiority in men and guns.

On Friday the Japanese, who had occupied the heights near Litaven and Khussan, above Antung, were dislodged and driven back to the river with considerable loss. They were compelled to dismount their pontoon bridge to save it from destruction.

Saturday a gunboat flotilla at the mouth of the river and all the field guns posted on the Korean bank opened a bombardment and scattered the Russian positions on the Manchurian side. The bombardment was maintained intermittently for seven hours, twenty-four field guns and twelve 4.7 guns participating, and over 2,000 shells being fired. The Russian reports pay tribute to the fine masked positions of these guns.

In two days' fighting the Russians lost 2 officers and 5 men killed and 6 officers and 36 men wounded.

On the morning of May 1 it became apparent that the bombardment of Saturday was a preliminary to the crossing on Sunday, when the Japanese opened again with their batteries, pouring an intense fire into the Russian lines, which caused great losses.

Would Only Retard Jap Advance.

The Russians had no intention of trying to prevent the Japanese crossing, their sole object being to retard and embarrass as much as possible the crossing with a comparatively insignificant force. This having been accomplished, General Sasulitch, menaced by the overwhelming force of the Japanese, retired in perfect order to his second position, a short distance away, which the Japanese immediately attacked and where fighting is now in progress.

The report from Tokio that the Russians were contesting the passage of the river with a force 30,000 strong, leads the authorities here to believe that it was put out for the purpose of claiming the crossing a Japanese victory, whereas they are satisfied that it cannot possibly warrant such a claim. The Russians believe it will require another week to get General Kuroki's army completely across and ready to advance on the Peking road.

The fact that the Russians have retreated to positions back of Turencheng, where there is more fighting, shows that they have built entrenchments which the Japanese are under the necessity of taking before they can push on. Consequently, continuous fighting and skirmishing will occur, the plan of the Russians being to hang on the flanks of the enemy and annoy and worry them to the uttermost. Nothing really decisive, however, is expected until the Japanese advance shall encounter the Russian position in the mountain passes of Fenghuancheng. It is even considered possible that the Japanese may be able to turn the Russian position there, but all this is provided for in General Kuropatkin's plans.

FOILED BY DENSE FOGS.

Japanese Naval Operations Against the Forts of Vladivostok.

Tokio, May 2.—The latest Japanese naval movements against Vladivostok failed of success because of the dense fogs which prevailed in the vicinity of that port.

TWO OTHER JAP ARMIES.

World Completely in the Dark as to Their Whereabouts.

London, May 2.—A dispatch from Mukden says that General Kuropatkin arrived there Sunday morning and left in the afternoon. His destination is not stated.

The Times' military correspondent, presuming that other important Japanese operations will coincide with the Khilientse affair, points out that the world is completely in the dark respecting the Second and Third Japanese armies. The Second army left Japan in the latter part of March under General Oka, and so far no one has been able to locate it. "It has vanished into space" while the correspondent points out the Third army embarked quite recently.

Office Buildings Burned.

Birmingham, Ala., May 2.—Four large office buildings with one smaller brick structure, occupied by produce and wholesale grocery dealers, were completely destroyed by fire Sunday, entailing a loss of $110,000.

GATES ARE TIGHTLY CLOSED

World's Fair at St. Louis Not Open to Visitors on Sunday.

St. Louis, May 2.—The first Sunday of the world's fair found the gates tightly closed to the hundreds of people who thronged Forest park. Many went to the world's fair grounds half expecting that by some chance they might be admitted to the exposition, while others went merely to wander through Forest Park and gaze at the ivory white buildings from without the high board fence, which surrounds the 1,240 acres of the section of the park occupied by the exposition. However, notwithstanding that the public was barred there were a few more favored who were permitted to enjoy the exposition grounds. They were Secretary of War Taft, Governor Herlick of Ohio, exposition officials and the members of the congressional delegation and the members of the Pennsylvania state commission.

This party filled a line of carriages, which, conducted by Secretary W. B. Stevens of the exposition, traversed the main avenues of the grounds, visiting the government building and the Philippine reservation, after which luncheon was served at the inside inn. Later a tour of the Pike was made under the guidance of Mr. Norris B. Gregg.

While work was generally suspended throughout the grounds, in the different exhibit buildings, individual exhibitors were busily employed making every effort to hasten the completion of exposition effect.

Pennsylvania and Michigan have arranged to dedicate their respective state buildings at the world's fair today.

While no figures were given out as to the actual number of persons who paid admission to the world's fair Saturday, it is officially stated that the attendance was less than 200,000, but larger, according to President Francis' calculations, than that of the Chicago world's fair at the centennial opening day.

FIGHTING IS SERIOUS

ARMENIANS AND TURKS CLASH IN ASIA MINOR AND MANY ARE KILLED.

Constantinople, May 2.—According to official advices there has been serious fighting in the Sassun district of Asia Minor between the troops and Armenian insurgents numbering 2,000. The troops lost twenty killed and twenty-three wounded. Twelve villages in the Talori district have been destroyed, but whether by insurgents or Kurds is not known. There are 10,000 troops in the disturbed area. Private advices say that the Kurds attacked two villages north of Sassun, losing twenty-six killed.

MAY STRAIN RELATIONS.

Attitude of Turkey in Blaming the Greek Consular Agent.

Athens, May 2.—Advices have been received here to the effect that the porte has communicated to the Greek minister at Constantinople, M. Gryparis, the report of the fall of Smyrna concerning the affair between Turkish gendarmes and Greeks in Smyrna, in which M. Delyannis, secretary of the Greek consulate, was slightly wounded, throwing the entire responsibility for the incident on the Greek consular agents.

Premier Theotokis has had a conference with King George on the subject. It is feared that the attitude of the porte will result in seriously straining the relations between Greece and Turkey.

AGED INDIAN MURDERED.

His Eyes Gouged Out and His Features Obliterated.

Shawano, Wis., May 2.—With his eyes gouged out with some sharp instrument, and his face stamped on till the features were obliterated, the body of Dennis Turkey, an aged Stockbridge Indian and a Civil war veteran, was found on the edge of the reservation Sunday morning.

Johnnie Frank, a Menominee half-breed, one of the most vicious Indians on the reservation, is in jail charged with the murder. Turkey was last seen alive with Frank. Both are said to have been intoxicated. Frank's clothing, hat and handkerchief were spotted with blood. He refuses to talk, aside from strenuously denying any knowledge of the crime.

SIX PERSONS KILLED.

Automobile Struck by an Express Train in France.

Paris, May 2.—An automobile in which six persons were driving was struck by the Basle-Paris express on a grade crossing at Rolassy-en-Brie, twenty-five miles from here. All the occupants, who were Parisians, were instantly killed.

TRIES TO DROWN CHILDREN.

Ohio Woman Throws Three of Them Into Lake Erie.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—Mrs. Caroline Volkman, who is believed to be insane from domestic troubles, threw her three children, Annie, aged eleven; Willie, aged five, and Otto, aged two, into Lake Erie Sunday afternoon and then jumped in herself. Fortunately boatmen were near by and the whole party was rescued without any ill effects. The children were sent to their home and the mother is locked up pending examination regarding her sanity.

MANY PERSONS HURT

HURRICANE ROOF OF THE FERRY STEAMER A. C. CHURCH COLLAPSES AT ST. LOUIS.

PANIC OCCURS ON THE BOAT

THIRTY-ONE PASSENGERS ARE INJURED AND SEVERAL OF THEM MAY NOT LIVE.

St. Louis, May 2.—The hurricane roof of the ferry steamer Alonzo C. Church collapsed early last evening while the steamer was crowded with sightseers viewing the United States gunboat Nashville, at anchor in the river harbor here, and thirty-one people were injured, a number of them being reported in a critical condition.

The ferry steamer had been carrying crowds all day from the foot of Valentine street out into midstream past the Nashville and back again. No stop was made at the Nashville, owing to the heavy flood current running. As the ferryboat was rounding the Nashville and starting back to dock the crowd on the upper deck rushed to the steamer's side and out upon the hurricane roof. The strain was too great and the roof collapsed, precipitating a large number of people twenty feet to the deck below, which was also crowded. Instantly a panic ensued. Women screamed and several persons attempted to jump into the river, thinking the boat was sinking. Cooler heads prevented this and efforts were at once begun to succor the injured. Ambulances were hastily called and soon after the Alonzo C. Church had reached shore the injured were being conveyed to the city hospital and many neighboring homes.

BIG STRIKE IN BOSTON.

Fifteen Hundred Bakers Go Out to Enforce Demands.

Boston, May 2.—A strike of more than 1,500 bakers in this city, Cambridge and Chelsea went into effect Sunday night. Every bakery in the three cities is affected with the exception of the Hebrew bakeries.

The daily output of bread in Boston is from 300,000 to 350,000 loaves a day and this supply will be practically cut off. In all quarters the employers were making an attempt to keep their shops open, but all admitted that the outlook for a production of any kind was poor. The large hotels and restaurants will not be affected.

The proprietors of the bakeries banded together in the master bakers' association have refused absolutely to grant the demand of the men for a new working agreement, which provides for an increase of wages, union shops and the use of the union label on every loaf of bread. The strike also affects Lynn, Salem and Brockton.

FIGHT A STUBBORN FIRE.

Ten Providence (R. I.) Firemen Overcome at a Costly Conflagration.

Providence, R. I., May 2.—The loss from the fire which practically destroyed the Anthony & Cowell company, furniture and upholstery dealers, will amount to about $400,000, partially covered by insurance.

The fire proved the most stubborn with which the firemen have had to contend in years, and during its progress it was feared that loss of life might result. It was not finally under control until 3 o'clock a. m. But few persons were in the building when the fire broke out and none was seriously injured, though ten firemen were overcome by smoke.

FOUR MEN DROWNED

ONE BOAT OVERTURNS AND ITS OCCUPANTS TIP OVER RESCUERS' CRAFT.

Duluth, May 2.—Four men, employees of the Davidson & McRae ranch in Aitkin county, were drowned Sunday at 11 a. m. in Rice Lake, eight miles southeast of Kimberly, Minn. They are Gilbert Ness and Christopher Peterson of Duluth, Oscar Johnson of Superior and Hoken Overland of Winona. The bodies of the drowned men had not been recovered up to a late hour last night.

Overland and Johnson were in a one-man duck boat and Peterson and Ness in a two-man duck boat. When about half a mile from the shore the former boat capsized, and Ness and Peterson responded to the cries of the men in the water for assistance. Overland and Johnson, in their terror and anxiety to be saved, capsized the other boat and precipitated Ness and Peterson into the water also.

Three of the men were drowned at once, but the head of the fourth was above water. People on the bank hastily constructed a raft out of posts and poled it out in the direction of the man, who seemed to be standing on the bottom awaiting their arrival. To their dismay he suddenly disappeared under water before they could get to him.

A. R. KIEFER IS DEAD

FORMER CONGRESSMAN FROM MINNESOTA EXPIRES SUD- DENLY IN ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, May 2.—Within a few minutes of 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Colonel Andrew R. Kiefer, a few hours before engaged in an active canvass for the position of city comptroller, reeled and fell to the floor in his room at the Ryan hotel, and the efforts of Dr. Gustav Stamm being unavailing, died within a few moments. Death came peacefully and without apparent pain after the final stroke, which occurred in the presence of the physician.

Death was due to heart trouble. Colonel Kiefer was born in Germany twenty-two years ago. He came to America in 1849 and to St. Paul in 1855. He was once mayor of St. Paul and served two terms in congress. He was a Civil war veteran and one of the most noted men in this section of the Northwest.

Alleged Forger Caught.

Philadelphia, May 2.—John T. Delaney, whom the police say is wanted in St. Louis, New York, Washington and particularly by the authorities at Baltimore, who charge him with forgery, was arrested here Sunday after a struggle with two detectives, whom Delaney tried hard to kill.

Accused of Robbing Lipton.

Philadelphia, May 2.—John Sheehy, said to have been manager of one of Sir Thomas Lipton's stores in Limerick, Ireland, was arrested Sunday as he stepped from the Belgian steamer Friesland from Liverpool, charged with embezzling several hundred pounds from the famous yachtman's establishment. Sheehy denies the charge.

Socialistic Party Convention.

Chicago, May 2.—The Socialistic party met here Sunday and organized a convention which will nominate candidates for president and vice president and frame a national platform. The nomination of Eugene V. Debs for president and Benjamin H. Franklin for vice president seems assured.

Under cover of this screen of fire eight Japanese torpedo boats towing a launch filled with mines slipped around to a spot near where the Petrovskiy was sunk, but they were detected by Russian searchlights, when the batteries opened fire and drove them off, but not before the mines had been sown. The mines have since been destroyed.

The Japanese, knowing that the Russians would intercept wireless messages, tried a neat trick to deceive and worry Viceroys Alexieff. For several nights in succession they sent by wireless telegraphy orders to prepare for a landing, to send in fire ships, to attack with submarine boats, etc.

ADMIT GREAT LOSSES

RUSSIANS SAY THE JAPANESE ARTILLERY FIRE DECIMATED THEIR FORCES.

FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS

FIVE THOUSAND RUSSIANS ARE TRYING TO IMPEDE JAPANESE ADVANCE.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—The first Japanese army under General Kuroki, consisting of the guards and the Second and Twelfth divisions, according to official and private advices from the front, crossed the Yalu Sunday about thirty miles above the mouth of the river, near Kluntse, where the river bends abruptly to the eastward. For three days less than 5,000 Russians, under Generals Sassulitch, Mischenko and Kashtalinsky, have been along the Manchurian side of the river and have been harassing and impeding the crossing of the Japanese very successfully, despite their hopeless inferiority in men and guns.

On Friday the Japanese, who had occupied the heights near Litzaven and Khussan, above Antung, were dislodged and driven back to the river with considerable loss. They were compelled to dismount their pontoon bridge to save it from destruction.

Saturday a gunboat flotilla at the mouth of the river and all the field guns posted on the Korean bank opened a bombardment and scattered the Russian positions on the Manchurian side. The bombardment was maintained intermittently for seven hours, twenty-four field guns and twelve 4.7 guns participating, and over 2,000 shells being fired. The Russian reports pay tribute to the fine masked positions of these guns.

In two days' fighting the Russians lost 2 officers and 5 men killed and 6 officers and 36 men wounded.

On the morning of May 1 it became apparent that the bombardment of Saturday was a preliminary to the crossing on Sunday, when the Japanese opened again with their batteries, pouring an intense fire into the Russian lines, which caused great losses.

Would Only Retard Jap Advance.

The Russians had no intention of trying to prevent the Japanese crossing, their sole object being to retard and embarrass as much as possible the crossing with a comparatively insignificant force. This having been accomplished, General Sassulitch, menaced by the overwhelming force of the Japanese, retired in perfect order to his second position, a short distance away, which the Japanese immediately attacked and where fighting is now in progress.

The report from Tokio that the Russians were contesting the passage of the river with a force 30,000 strong, leads the authorities here to believe that it was put out for the purpose of claiming the crossing a Japanese victory, whereas they are satisfied that it cannot possibly warrant such a claim. The Russians believe it will require another week to get General Kuroki's army completely across and ready to advance on the Peking road.

The fact that the Russians have retreated to positions back of Turencheng, where there is more fighting, shows that they have built entrenchments which the Japanese are under the necessity of taking before they can push on. Consequently, continuous fighting and skirmishing will occur, the plan of the Russians being to hang on the flanks of the enemy and annoy and worry them to the uttermost. Nothing really decisive, however, is expected until the Japanese advance shall encounter the Russian position in the mountain passes of Fenghuancheng. It is even considered possible that the Japanese may be able to turn the Russian position there, but all this is provided for in General Kuropatkin's plans.

FOILED BY DENSE FOGS.

Japanese Naval Operations Against the Ports of Vladivostok.

Tokio, May 2.—The latest Japanese naval movements against Vladivostok failed of success because of the dense fogs which prevailed in the vicinity of that port.

TWO OTHER JAP ARMIES.

World Completely in the Dark as to Their Whereabouts.

London, May 2.—A dispatch from Mukden says that General Kuropatkin arrived there Sunday morning and left in the afternoon. His destination is not stated.

The Times' military correspondent, presuming that other important Japanese operations will coincide with the Kluntse affair, points out that the world is completely in the dark respecting the Second and Third Japanese armies. The Second army left Japan in the latter part of March under General Oku, and so far no one has been able to locate it. "It has vanished into space" while the correspondent points out the Third army embarked quite recently.

Office Buildings Burned.

Birmingham, Ala., May 2.—Four large office buildings with one smaller brick structure, occupied by produce and wholesale grocery dealers, were completely destroyed by fire Sunday, entailing a loss of $110,000.

GATES ARE TIGHTLY CLOSED.

World's Fair at St. Louis Not Open to Visitors on Sunday.

St. Louis, May 2.—The first Sunday of the world's fair found the gates tightly closed to the hundreds of people who thronged Forest park. Many went to the world's fair grounds half expecting that by some chance they might be admitted to the exposition, while others went merely to wander through Forest Park and gaze at the ivory white buildings from without the high board fence, which surrounds the 1,240 acres of the section of the park occupied by the exposition. However, notwithstanding that the public was barred there were a few more favored who were permitted to enjoy the exposition grounds. They were the Secretary of War Taft, Governor Herrick of Ohio, exposition officials and the members of the congressional delegation and the members of the Pennsylvania state commission.

This party filed a line of carriages, which, conducted by Secretary W. B. Stevens of the exposition, traversed the main avenues of the grounds, visiting the government building and the Philippine reservation, after which luncheon was served at the Inside Inn. Later a tour of the Pike was made under the guidance of Mr. Norris B. Grege.

While work was generally suspended throughout the grounds, in the different exhibit buildings, individual exhibitors were busily employed making every effort to hasten the completion of exposition effect.

Pennsylvania and Michigan have arranged to dedicate their respective state buildings at the world's fair today.

While no figures were given out as to the actual number of persons who paid admission to the world's fair Saturday, it is officially stated that the attendance was less than 200,000, but larger, according to President Francis' calculations, than that of the Chicago world's fair at the centennial opening day.

FIGHTING IS SERIOUS

ARMENIANS AND TURKS CLASH IN ASIA MINOR AND MANY ARE KILLED.

Constantinople, May 2.—According to official advices there has been serious fighting in the Sassun district of Asia Minor between the troops and Armenian insurgents numbering 2,000. The troops lost twenty killed and twenty-three wounded. Twelve villages in the Talori district have been destroyed, but whether by insurgents or Kurds is not known. There are 10,000 troops in the disturbed area. Private advices say that the Kurds attacked two villages north of Sassun, losing twenty-six killed.

MAY STRAIN RELATIONS.

Attitude of Turkey in Blaming the Greek Consular Agent.

Athens, May 2.—Advices have been received here to the effect that the porte has communicated to the Greek minister at Constantinople, M. Grivas, the report of the vail of Smyrna concerning the affair between Turkish gendarmes and Greeks in Smyrna, in which M. Deliyannis, secretary of the Greek consulate, was slightly wounded, throwing the entire responsibility for the incident on the Greek consular agents.

Premier Theotokis has had a conference with King George on the subject. It is feared that the attitude of the porte will result in seriously straining the relations between Greece and Turkey.

AGED INDIAN MURDERED.

His Eyes Gouged Out and His Features Obliterated.

Shawano, Wis., May 2.—With his eyes gouged out with some sharp instrument, and his face stamped on till the features were obliterated, the body of Dennis Turkey, an aged Stockbridge Indian and a Civil war veteran, was found on the edge of the reservation Sunday morning.

Johnnie Frank, a Menominee half-breed, one of the most vicious Indians on the reservation, is in jail charged with the murder. Turkey was last seen alive with Frank. Both are said to have been intoxicated. Frank's clothing, hat and handkerchief were spotted with blood. He refuses to talk, aside from strenuously denying any knowledge of the crime.

SIX PERSONS KILLED.

Automobile Struck by an Express Train in France.

Paris, May 2.—An automobile in which six persons were driving was struck by the Basle-Paris express on a grade crossing at Roissy-en-Brie, twenty-five miles from here. All the occupants, who were Parisians, were instantly killed.

TRIES TO DROWN CHILDREN.

Ohio Woman Throws Three of Them into Lake Erie.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—Mrs. Caroline Volkman, who is believed to be insane from domestic troubles, threw her three children, Annie, aged eleven; Willie, aged five; and Otto, aged two, into Lake Erie Sunday afternoon and then jumped in herself. Fortunately boatmen were near by and the whole party was rescued without any ill effects. The children were sent to their home and the mother is locked up pending examination regarding her sanity.

MANY PERSONS HURT

HURRICANE ROOF OF THE FERRY STEAMER A. C. CHURCH COLLAPSES AT ST. LOUIS.

PANIC OCCURS ON THE BOAT

THIRTY-ONE PASSENGERS ARE INJURED AND SEVERAL OF THEM MAY NOT LIVE.

St. Louis, May 2.—The hurricane roof of the ferry steamer Alonzo C. Church collapsed early last evening while the steamer was crowded with sightseers viewing the United States gunboat Nashville, at anchor in the river harbor here, and thirty-one people were injured, a number of them being reported in a critical condition.

The ferry steamer had been carrying crowds all day from the foot of Valentine street out into midstream past the Nashville and back again. No stop was made at the Nashville, owing to the heavy flood current running. As the ferryboat was rounding the Nashville and starting back to dock the crowd on the upper deck rushed to the steamer's side and out upon the hurricane roof. The strain was too great and the roof collapsed, precipitating a large number of people twenty feet to the deck below, which was also crowded. Instantly a panic ensued. Women screamed and several persons attempted to jump into the river, thinking the boat was sinking. Cooler heads prevented this and efforts were at once begun to succor the injured. Ambulances were hastily called and soon after the Alonzo C. Church had reached shore the injured were being conveyed to the city hospital and many neighboring homes.

BIG STRIKE IN BOSTON.

Fifteen Hundred Bakers Go Out to Enforce Demands.

Boston, May 2.—A strike of more than 1,500 bakers in this city, Cambridge and Chelsea went into effect Sunday night. Every bakery in the three cities is affected with the exception of the Hebrew bakeries.

The daily output of bread in Boston is from 300,000 to 350,000 loaves a day and this supply will be practically cut off. In all quarters the employers were making an attempt to keep their shops open, but all admitted that the outlook for a production of any kind was poor. The large hotels and restaurants will not be affected.

The proprietors of the bakeries banded together in the master makers' association have refused absolutely to grant the demand of the men for a new working agreement, which provides for an increase of wages, union shops and the use of the union label on every loaf of bread. The strike also affects Lynn, Salem and Brockton.

FIGHT A STUBBORN FIRE.

Ten Providence (R. I.) Firemen Overcome at a Costly Conflagration.

Providence, R. I., May 2.—The loss from the fire which practically destroyed the Anthony & Cowell company, furniture and upholstery dealers, will amount to about $100,000, partially covered by insurance.

The fire proved the most stubborn with which the firemen have had to contend in years, and during its progress it was feared that loss of life might result. It was not finally under control until 3 o'clock a. m. But few persons were in the building when the fire broke out and none was seriously injured, though ten firemen were overcome by smoke.

FOUR MEN DROWNED

ONE BOAT OVERTURNS AND ITS OCCUPANTS TIP OVER RESCUERS' CRAFT.

Duluth, May 2.—Four men, employees of the Davidson & McRae ranch in Atkin county, were drowned Sunday at 11 a. m. in Rice Lake, eight miles southeast of Kimberly, Minn. They are Gilbert Ness and Christopher Peterson of Duluth, Oscar Johnson of Superior and Hoken Overland of Winona. The bodies of the drowned men had not been recovered up to a late hour last night.

Overland and Johnson were in a one-man duck boat and Peterson and Ness in a two-men duck boat. When about half a mile from the shore the former boat capsized, and Ness and Peterson responded to the cries of the men in the water for assistance. Overland and Johnson, in their terror and anxiety to be saved, capsized the other boat and precipitated Ness and Peterson into the water also.

Three of the men were drowned at once, but the head of the fourth was above water. People on the bank hastily constructed a raft out of posts and poled it out in the direction of the man, who seemed to be standing on the bottom awaiting their arrival. To their dismay he suddenly disappeared under water before they could get to him.

TWO STORIES AND SOLID BRICK
Building Will Occupy Sight of Albert Angel Store on Corner of Laurel and Seventh.
The indications now are that Brainerd will have one of the biggest building seasons this year that it has had in many years. The latest development in this line is out. A deal has been partially closed by L. E. Lum and W. D. McKay for the purchase of the Albert Angel corner, Laurel and Seventh street, and it is stated on good authority that they will erect a modern and up-to-date block here.
The exact proportions of the block have not been made known, but it is known that it will be built for store purposes and it is understood that Slipp Bros. have already spoken for one of the stores. The general plan of the new building will be determined on in a few days and the information will be given out to the public.

Plum Pudding as Food.
In popular belief plum pudding, though difficult of digestion, contains a large proportion of nutriment. The London Lancet publishes the analysis made of two puddings, of which one was found to have a "nutrient value" of 68 per cent and the other of 59.
It appears that, although most agreeable as an article of food, plum pudding is not quite so concentrated a form of diet as has been supposed, and conjectures that it yields as much sustenance as beefsteak are certainly not supported by its chemical composition. The amount of nitrogenous matter is only moderate, and it must be remembered that in calculating the nutrient ratio and value all the nitrogen has been assumed to be albuminoid. Probably the true albuminoids and consequently the food value are slightly lower than would appear from the results; also the percentage of water is rather large, and the quantities of the remaining components are proportionately lessened.
An Important Announcement.
When the late Lord Lyons was British ambassador at Paris he received a gift of two emus. Embassies are not exactly the place to keep such birds, and he gave them to the Duke of Norfolk, who then had a large aviary at Arundel castle. The duke in his turn named the pair Lord and Lady Lyons. Like all amateur bird fanciers, he was eager to raise a brood of little emus, but the birds showed no disposition to propagate their species. The duke finally grew weary of watching them and left it to the keepers to bring him immediate word of any signs of a family. A month or two later when the household was at lunch with several guests one of the keepers insisted upon access to the duke. Red, breathless and stammering, he burst into the dining room with "Your grace, your grace, Lord and Lady Lyons 'ave laid a begg!"
British Local Nicknames.
The residents of the English counties have nicknames the meaning and origin of which are not always obvious. Why the inhabitants of Liverpool should be called "Dicky Sams" is not very clear. But nearly all the counties have their distinctive nicknames. The Gloucesters are "Keelies," the Lancashire men are "Tim Bobbins," while the Lincolnshire folk have long been called "Yellow Bellies," after the frogs which once abounded there. Yorkshire men, again, are everywhere "Tykes," a nickname the etymology of which is not easy to trace. The inhabitants of Suffolk are designated "Dumplings," those of Kent "Hogs" and the Isle of Wight people "Calves."

The Fretful Porcupine.
In the woods of Keewaydin there once roamed a very discontented porcupine. He was forever fretting. He complained that everything was wrong, till it was perfectly scandalous, and the Great Spirit, getting tired of his grumbling, said:
"You and the world I have made don't seem to fit. One or the other must be wrong. It is easier to change you. You don't like the trees, you are unhappy on the ground and think everything is upside down, so I'll turn you inside out and put you in the water."
This was the origin of the shad.—Ernest Thompson-Seton in Century.

ANOTHER BIG BLOCK IN SIGHT

L. E. Lum and W. D. McKay Interested in One to be Erected on Laurel Street

TWO STORIES AND SOLID BRICK

Building Will Occupy Sight of Albert Angel Store on Corner of Laurel and Seventh.

The indications now are that Brainerd will have one of the biggest building seasons this year that it has had in many years. The latest development in this line is out. A deal has been partially closed by L. E. Lum and W. D. McKay for the purchase of the Albert Angel corner, Laurel and Seventh street, and it is stated on good authority that they will erect a modern and up to-date block here.

The exact proportions of the block have not been made known, but it is known that it will be built for store purposes and it is understood that Slipp Bros. have already spoken for one of the stores. The general plan of the new building will be determined on in a few days and the information will be given out to the public.

These days so rapid is the pace, The men of action win the race, And if the finish you would see Go take some Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. H. P. Dunn & Co.

Plum Pudding as Food.

In popular belief plum pudding, though difficult of digestion, contains a large proportion of nutriment. The London Lancet publishes the analysis made of two puddings, of which one was found to have a "nutrient value" of 68 per cent and the other of 59.

It appears that, although most agreeable as an article of food, plum pudding is not quite so concentrated a form of diet as has been supposed, and conjectures that it yields as much sustenance as beefsteak are certainly not supported by its chemical composition. The amount of nitrogenous matter is only moderate, and it must be remembered that in calculating the nutrient ratio and value all the nitrogen has been assumed to be albuminoid. Probably the true albuminoids and consequently the food value are slightly lower than would appear from the results; also the percentage of water is rather large, and the quantities of the remaining components are proportionately lessened.

An Important Announcement.

When the late Lord Lyons was British ambassador at Paris he received a gift of two emus. Embassies are not exactly the place to keep such birds, and he gave them to the Duke of Norfolk, who then had a large aviary at Arundel castle. The duke in his turn named the pair Lord and Lady Lyons. Like all amateur bird fanciers, he was eager to raise a brood of little emus, but the birds showed no disposition to propagate their species. The duke finally grew weary of watching them and left it to the keepers to bring him immediate word of any signs of a family. A month or two later when the household was at lunch with several guests one of the keepers insisted upon access to the duke. Red, breathless and stammering, he burst into the dining room with "Your grace, your grace, Lord and Lady Lyons 'ave laid a hegg!"

British Local Nicknames.

The residents of the English counties have nicknames the meaning and origin of which are not always obvious. Why the inhabitants of Liverpool should be called "Dicky Sams" is not very clear. But nearly all the counties have their distinctive nicknames. The Glaswegians are "Keebles," the Lancashire men are "Tim Bobbins," while the Lincolnshire folk have long been called "Yellow Bellies," after the frogs which once abounded there. Yorkshire men, again, are everywhere "Tykes," a nickname the etymology of which is not easy to trace. The inhabitants of Suffolk are designated "Dumplings," those of Kent "Hogs" and the Isle of Wight people "Calves."

The Fretful Porcupine.

In the woods of Keowaydin there once roamed a very discontented porcupine. He was forever fretting. He complained that everything was wrong, till it was perfectly scandalous, and the Great Spirit, getting tired of his grumbling, said:

"You and the world I have made don't seem to fit. One or the other must be wrong. It is easier to change you. You don't like the trees, you are unhappy on the ground and think everything is upside down, so I'll turn you inside out and put you in the water."

This was the origin of the shad.—Ernest Thompson Seton in Century.

Sincerity is speaking as we think, believing as we pretend, acting as we profess, performing as we promise and being as we appear to be.

ROBBERS GET A RICH HAUL

Store of J. W. Koop Entered Some Time During the Night and Safe Was Hampered

$10,000 IN NOTES CARRIED AWAY

Burglars Made Entrance Through Back Door by Prying it Open With a Crowbar.

Brainerd was visited by burglars again last night when the store of J. W. Koop, corner of Laurel and Seventh streets, was entered and considerable money, valuable papers and some $50 worth of knives and razors were taken. From the appearance about the place it is evident that the prowlers took all the time there was to do the job and did it up in fine shape. It was not their fault that they did not make a much richer haul than they did. The most exasperating thing about the affair is the fact that the burglars made away with a tin box which was in the safe, which contained about $10,000 worth of notes, which, while they are of no value to the men who took them, are of great value to Mr. Koop.

An entrance was effected through the large double door at the rear of the building, and the indications are that the door was pried open with a crowbar. Once inside the burglars had access to any part of the store and are supposed to have wandered about at random, picking up anything that they might carry away conveniently.

The safe was evidently one of the first places of attack. In some manner the safe door was opened. Mr. Koop is not certain whether he turned on the full combination or not when he left the store last night, but he rather thinks that he did. At any rate the men who did the job opened the safe with little trouble and they just emptied it of all its contents. Taking the papers out they went over near one of the windows where there was light and evidently looked them all over, taking what they thought was of any value and dropping others right where they were. In the safe were a large number of valuable papers, such as mining stocks, bank stocks etc. These they did not take, but when it came to the tin box containing the notes they took notes, box and all and walked off. Then came the cash box. They took this and when in the alley near the rear of the Luken store emptied it of its contents and threw it up on a pile of wood. There was something like $50 in cash in the box besides a deposit slip for $100 which they will probably be able to cash, but upon which payment at the bank has been stopped by Mr. Koop. $25 of the $50 taken belonged to A. Linneman. The office where the safe is located was literally strewn with papers which had been taken from the safe and it was a sight to behold when Mr. Koop reached the store this morning.

Mr. Koop had been to the store last evening and took home with him something like $300 in money, which he intended depositing this morning.

The burglars did not make any bones about walking around and taking in the sights and it is presumed that they got their fill of everything. They walked over to the case where the razors and knives were and it is estimated that they took away about $50 worth. They evidently did not scrutinize these very closely, however, or they would have seen the initials, "J. W." on them and would probably have dropped them like hot bricks. The loss is a severe one to Mr. Koop, especially the loss of the notes. They will probably be found, however.

The police were notified at once this morning and wires were sent in every direction with a description of the goods stolen, and it is hoped that the men will be apprehended.

CAN'T KEEP IT UP.

Can't Deceive Brainerd People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place, but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Moses Derocher of 127, 7th street south says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain, very distressing by spells, becoming much worse and causing me discomfort, to say the least. My husband bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest drug store and I started taking them. The medicines I had used failed to help me but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the backache."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

Stetson's Great Double Spectacular production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is booked for the Brainerd opera house tomorrow night. This grand old drama has been mercilessly butchered by the "fly-by-night" companies in the past. It is a marvel that it has not long before this lost its power of attracting theatre-goers, which is quite often the case with most plays and even so with productions other than Stetson's but the public has grown to know that Stetson's is always reliable, that is has lifted "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from mediocrity to mastery. In short, it is the only company presenting this time-honored drama with capital enough to provide sufficient scenery, people and railroad equipments to place it among the best entertainments before the public. Stetson is the only one presenting the drama as a first-class show should be envisioned and equipped. And no more enjoyable entertainment will be seen than this. Nearly fifty people are used in the production and with its artistic mingling of mirth, melody and pathos, all classes of amusement seekers will be entertained. Specialties galore, wonderful mechanical effects, new costumes, a splendid orchestra, a large pack of Siberian bloodhounds, pretty little Shetland ponies, meek-eyed donkeys, mild and trickery are in evidence at every performance. The street parade is said to eclipse anything ever given by a theatrical company and contains a scene of processional novelties that will delight every boy and girl and make even the mature pause to contemplate. Seats are now on sale at Dunn's.

THE BACHELOR MAID'S MINSTRELS.

The big festival of minstrelsy at the Brainerd opera house next Friday evening by the Bachelor Maids is the talk of the town. The event will be something unique and out of the ordinary and there will be all kinds of fun. Many are curious to know just how the girls will do the minstrel turns and hence there is a growing interest. Some very clever specialties have been secured for the second part and this in addition to the good songs in the first part will make the program one of great interest. The ladies wish it understood that the money which is taken in is to be used for charity. They will seek to do good by helping families who are especially in need in the way of hospital provision.

NO OVERCROWDING

At St. Louis—Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates

The alarming and altogether erroneous reports which have been circulated from time to time regarding the probable overcrowding of visitors to the exposition and the lack of accommodations may be entirely discarded, as the arrangements which have been made in the Cascade City are such as to provide good accommodations and entertainment for all who come.

Chief among the prominent hostilities which have opened their hospitable doors is The Inside Inn, situated actually within the grounds of the exposition itself and erected under the supervision of the World's Fair management. It is three stories in height, is 400 feet wide, 800 feet long and contains 2,257 rooms in addition to its parlors and waiting rooms and a dining room and restaurant, seating 2,500. The Inside Inn is under the direct management of E. M. Statler, the well-known caterer of Buffalo, who maintains a high-class and uniform cuisine and service for everyone of his guests.

The Inside Inn is run on both the European and American plans at rates ranging from $1.50 to $5.50 per day, European, and from $3 to $7, American, including admission in both classes. The range of prices being solely controlled by the size and location of the rooms.

The advantage of a large, comfortable and thoroughly equipped, homelike hotel right inside the grounds will be at once obvious to all who remember the long, wearisome journeys so often entailed, both at the World's Fair in Chicago and at Buffalo, by those who lived some distance away from the exposition. No admission fee other than the first one is needed, visitors being within the precincts of the exposition all the time. They thus save all loss of time, expenses of street cars, etc., and are able to devote the whole of their time to the pleasures and enjoyments of the exposition.

Reservations may be made for any date and full details regarding the many advantages of The Inside Inn may be obtained by addressing a postal card to The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., Worlds Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

All Matters Pertaining to Office of Supt. of Motive Power to Be Directed to Him

MAKES HIM ACTING SUPERIN'D'T.

Rise of Young Man in Railroad World During Past Ten Years Considered Phenomenal

Circulars have been sent out from the general offices of the Northern Pacific which would imply that A. W. Wheatley, until a short time ago superintendent of the shops in this city, is now acting superintendent of motive power.

The circular notifies all concerned that until further notice all matters pertaining to the office of superintendent of motive power must be directed to A. W. Wheatley, of St. Paul.

Mr. Wheatley was promoted to the office of assistant superintendent of motive power only a short time ago, his position up to that time being superintendent of the N. P. shops in this city. The position of superintendent of motive power is one of the most important on the N. P. system and coming as it does to so young a man, it is considered a great compliment and a fitting reward for true worth. His career in the railroad business has been of short duration, compared with the army of men who have been employed with the company for over a quarter of a century. Twelve years ago Mr. Wheatley was a machinist in the shops in this city and his rise from that time is considered phenomenal. Since that time he has held various positions as general foreman and master mechanic at different points on the system, returning to Brainerd to succeed S. L. Bean, who resigned to go with the Santa Fe.

H. P. Dunn & Co. Will Return Your Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Cure You.

There are hundreds of people in Brainerd who were not the least bit surprised when they read in "The Dispatch" that H. P. Dunn & Co. are selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble.

Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it cures. H. P. Dunn & Co. can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Brainerd today praising Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na they eat what they want and with no fear of suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c a box. It is a pure medicine that speeds and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction, to refund the money if it does not cure.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place, but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Moses Derocher of 127, 7th street south says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain, very distressing by spells, becoming much worse and causing me discomfort, to say the least. My husband bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest drug store and I started taking them. 'The medicines I had used failed to help me but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the backache.'"

Sold for 50 cents, at H. P. Dunn & Co., and all druggists. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.
Stetson's Great Double Spectacular production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is booked for the Brainerd opera house tomorrow night. This grand old drama has been mercilessly butchered by the "fly-by-night" companies in the past. It is a marvel that it has not long before this lost its power of attracting theatre-goers, which is quite often the case with most plays and even so with productions other than Stetson's but the public has grown to know that Stetson's is always reliable, that is has lifted "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from mediocrity to mastery. In short, it is the only company presenting this time-honored drama with capital enough to provide sufficient scenery, people and railroad equipments to place it among the best entertainments before the public. Stetson is the only one presenting the drama as a first-class show should be envied and equipped. And no more enjoyable entertainment will be seen than this. Nearly fifty people are used in the production and with its artistic mingling of mirth, melody and pathos, all classes of amusement seekers will be entertained. Specialties galore, wonderful mechanical effects, new costumes, a splendid orchestra, a large pack of Siberian bloodhounds, pretty little Shetland ponies, meek-eyed donkeys, mild and tricky are in evidence at every performance. The street parade is said to eclipse anything ever given by a theatrical company and contains a scene of processional novelties that will delight every boy and girl and make even the mature pause to contemplate. Seats are now on sale at Dunn's.

THE BACHELOR MAID'S MINSTRELS.

The big festival of minstrelsy at the Brainerd opera house next Friday evening by the Bachelor Maids is the talk of the town. The event will be something unique and out of the ordinary and there will be all kinds of fun. Many are curious to know just how the girls will do the minstrel turns and hence there is a growing interest. Some very clever specialties have been secured for the second part and this in addition to the good songs in the first part will make the program one of great interest. The ladies wish it understood that the money which is taken in is to be used for charity. They will seek to do good by helping families who are especially in need in the way of hospital provision.

NO OVERCROWDING

At St. Louis—Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates

The alarming and altogether erroneous reports which have been circulated from time to time regarding the probable overcrowding of visitors to the exposition and the lack of accommodations may be entirely discarded, as the arrangements which have been made in the Cascade City are such as to provide good accommodations and entertainment for all who come.

Chief among the prominent hostleries which have opened their hospitable doors is The Inside Inn, situated actually within the grounds of the exposition itself and erected under the supervision of the World's Fair management. It is three stories in height, is 400 feet wide, 800 feet long and contains 2,257 rooms in addition to its parlors and waiting rooms and a dining room and restaurant, seating 2,500. The Inside Inn is under the direct management of E. M. Statler, the well-known caterer of Buffalo, who maintains a high-class and uniform cuisine and service for everyone of his guests.

The Inside Inn is run on both the European and American plans at rates ranging from $1.50 to $5.50 per day, European, and from $3 to $7, American, including admission in both classes. The range of prices being solely controlled by the size and location of the rooms.

The advantage of a large, comfortable and thoroughly equipped, homelike hotel right inside the grounds will be at once obvious to all who remember the long, wearisome journeys so often entailed, both at the World's Fair in Chicago and at Buffalo, by those who lived some distance away from the exposition. No admission fee other than the first one is needed, visitors being within the precincts of the exposition all the time. They thus save all loss of time, expenses of street cars, etc., and are able to devote the whole of their time to the pleasures and enjoyments of the exposition.

Reservations may be made for any date and full details regarding the many advantages of The Inside Inn may be obtained by addressing a postal card to The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

REV. KNOWLES ON SUNDAY BASE BALL

Food for Thought in Reflecting
Over His Sermon on Sunday
Summer Amusements

OPPOSED TO PROFESSIONAL BALL.

Other Matters Touched Upon That Might Be of Interest to the People of Brainerd.

Rev. Harry Knowles, of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, preached a sermon last Sunday evening on "Sunday Summer Amusements" and THE DISPATCH has culled a portion of this sermon as food for thought, touching particularly on Sunday base ball, as this has been the chief diversion in the amusement line in this city for the past few years. The question is also referred to from the fact that Rev. Mr. Knowles gained much publicity while in Duluth in his fight against Sunday base ball.

Among other things the reverend gentleman said:
"Why should the day not be a holiday? Because that day was given by God for something higher and nobler. Seeing the needs of the people this day was set apart for a change of activities. You may on that day not only rest but refresh yourself with recreation pleasures. Take walking; if after working all week in the shop or other place of business, you take your wheel on Sunday afternoon and go out with the intention of refreshing yourself by filling your lungs with God's pure air and enjoy Heaven's sunshine and the beauties of nature, all well and good, but if you meet me don't slink away with your head hung down like a thief and say 'Here comes the preacher,' but be a man and show that you are not ashamed to meet men. Say Hello! Mr. Knowles and I'll say Hello! to you. But if after you get back from your recreation and say that you are too tired to go to Church, then I'll have something else to say."

"In regard to Sunday base ball, let me say that I have not, am not, and never expect to be the enemy of young men. If the boys want to play a game of amateur base ball, let them do it rather than be doing something worse but go where you will not annoy anyone as it is against the law to be a nuisance and we want to be law abiding citizens. If boys must play base ball it is the fault of the parents who do not provide something else for their entertainment in better ways for if you do not make provision for them they will go where they can have amusement."

"Professional base ball on Sunday I have always been against, but only once have I made war on that and then not until the rights of working men were infringed upon. In a city in this state a place was about to be made for Sunday base ball. At first they were going to put it in the wealthy resident district and the people rose up and said no we won't have it and then it was to be put in the midst of the working men, and I said 'If it is not right to have it in the rich part of the city and they won't stand for it, then in the name of common sense and justice it is not right to have it among the working class and we won't.' Then the war was on and for two years was kept up and we didn't have it, there."

"Four things I am against and by God's help will fight: The saloon, the open gambling place, the God pity us, you call it the tender loin district, and Sunday professional base ball. I ask you if I am right or wrong. Will you stand by me and by the grace of God bring about a remedy for these things which ought not to be. Or will you like others, who for the sake of having the sanction of the sporting world, have persecuted me bitterly. The heart breaking part of it is that preachers, yes, and presiding elders, have done this very thing, men who profess to be doing God's service and yet upholding the very things for which Christ died to save the world from."

"Young men the future destiny of our country lies in your hands. What is it to be? Remember that if you would be noble in Heaven be noble here."

NEW CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL.

St. Paul Will Have One That Will Cost $3,000,000.

St. Paul, May 2.—The Kittson residence at Summit, Dayton and Selby avenues has been purchased by the archdiocese of St. Paul as the site for a new Catholic cathedral. The purchase was completed by Archbishop Ireland, who returned from a three weeks' trip in the East. The price paid is understood to be $52,000.

Archbishop Ireland believes that the time has come to build a cathedral in St. Paul, and although no definite plans have been adopted, it is understood that plans will be matured as rapidly as possible so that work can be begun this year. It is rumored that the new building will cost about $3,000,000, and that several years will be required for its completion.

COLLECTOR ENDS HIS LIFE.

Shoots Himself Through the Head With a Revolver.

Elk River, Minn., May 2.—A. B. Lawrence of St. Cloud, who is employed as collector for the Minneapolis Thresher company, committed suicide here Saturday night by shooting himself. Lawrence's body was found in his room at the Blatchett hotel. By his side was a forty-one caliber revolver. The bullet fired from the weapon had pierced the man's head. Lawrence had been dead at least fifteen hours when his body was found. No motive for the suicide is known.

Veteran Commits Suicide.

St. Paul, May 2.—Captain Irwin Y. Shelley, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, who left the soldiers' home at Minnehaha Park April 14 after a quarrel with the commandant over the rule prohibiting the introduction of whisky to the grounds, drowned himself in the river during the night. Coroner Miller decided it to be a case of suicide.

Wife Given Light Sentence.

Chicago, May 2.—Edward Travis, formerly of New York, and his wife, Elizabeth, convicted on their pleas of shoplifting, have been sentenced by Judge Kersten. Travis will serve four months in jail and Mrs. Travis was sent to jail for one hour.

THROWN UPON THE STAGE.

The Way English Audiences Reward Popular Players With Gifts.

There have lately in the provinces been several sensational nights at prominent theaters when to mark the last performance of a local pantomime all manner of gifts have been thrown upon the stage for the benefit of popular performers.

All those acquainted for long with the inner life of the theatrical profession can tell some remarkable stories of these gifts cast upon the stage. The most celebrated and universal of these relates to a lady who once held the main portion of the lease of a prominent London theater. While this lady was still an actress only and not a manageress, an actress of great talent and beauty, there was one night on the first production of the piece a small bouquet cast upon the stage at her feet. Attached to the bouquet was a small Russia leather card case, and inside this were bank notes to the value of £1,000 exactly. On no fewer than seven different occasions, with a tolerably long interval between, did the same thing occur, and the lady, as alleged, has never from that day to this discovered who her admirer was, though all manner of romantic conjectures were made at the time.

Even within the last few weeks an unknown elderly gentleman threw an envelope weighted with pennies and containing a five pound note to a tiny child performing in a London suburban pantomime. Some theaters have been celebrated for their gift nights, all manner of presents, from frying pans to green vegetables, having been gently deposited on the stage for the popular actors; yet, on the other hand, both writs and summonses have been handed to actors who could not be approached through the stage door, but who consented to receive presents over the footlights on their benefit nights.

The most curious sight the writer ever saw in connection with these gift throwing nights was in relation to a favorite actor who, at a great provincial theater, played during a long pantomime run the part of a parasite named Cadgi, who carried a pipe that had a huge bowl and whose oft repeated cry was, "Can any one oblige me with a bit o' bacca?" On the last night of the performance the familiar request for a "bit o' bacca" had no sooner been spoken than literally scores of packets and "screws" of tobacco of every imaginable kind were thrown upon the stage, more than 120 of these falling about the actor.—London Tit-Bits.

His Present.

"John," she said, "your little wifey has been saving up her money to buy you a nice present."
"Good little wifey," he replied.
"What is it?"
"A smoking jacket," she explained.
"And I saved the money all myself out of the house allowance. Wasn't I thoughtful?"
"Splendid!" he exclaimed.
"And now I wish you'd bring me home some more money tonight."
"What did you do with what I brought home last night?" he asked in some surprise.
"Oh, that's what I saved the smoking jacket money out of," she answered, "and there wasn't any left."—Chicago Post.

Not to Be Hushed.

Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island, who died at the age of ninety, refused up to the day of his death to accept the assistance of a condutor bishop, declaring that he was perfectly able to perform his duties and care for his people. At a meeting of the clergy in the last year of his life Archbishop Bryan was requested to call the meeting to order. The archdeacon arose and requested the delegates to give attention, remarking:

"The bishop wishes to say a few words."
"A few words, sir; a few words!" interjected the bishop. "I would have it understood, sir, that the bishop will say as many words as he pleases."

The Benefits of Prayer.

"Now, honestly," said the unbeliever, "have you ever been helped by prayer? Can you point to a single instance in which you can truthfully say that praying has done you the slightest service?"

"I should say I could!" replied the good old elder. "If I hadn't stopped to say my prayers the other morning I'd have caught the 7:40 train into the city, and instead of sixty-one passengers killed and injured in the wreck I'd have probably made the sixty-second."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Polite Butcher.

Boy (in butcher's shop)—My mother sent me back to let you see what a big bone there was in the pound of beef she bought last night, and she wants another pound without bones. Butcher—Tell your mother the next time I kill a cow without bones I'll send her a leg for nothing.

A Romance.

"I see Jones is going to write a novel."
"I never thought he had imagination enough for that."
"The deuce he hasn't! He's been making out expense accounts for nearly eleven years."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Her Own Ticket.

"Well, of course, I don't know how the young man will turn out. Marriage is a lottery."
"Yes, mamma, but a girl should hardly be expected to let her mother select her ticket!"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The innocent seldom find an uneasy pillow.—Cowper.

REV. KNOWLES ON SUNDAY BASE BALL

Food for Thought in Reflecting Over His Sermon on Sunday Summer Amusements

OPPOSED TO PROFESSIONAL BALL

Other Matters Touched Upon That Might Be of Interest to the People of Brainerd.

Rev. Harry Knowles, of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, preached a sermon last Sunday evening on "Sunday Summer Amusements" and THE DISPATCH has culled a portion of this sermon as food for thought, touching particularly on Sunday base ball, as this has been the chief diversion in the amusement line in this city for the past few years. The question is also referred to from the fact that Rev. Mr. Knowles gained much publicity while in Duluth in his fight against Sunday base ball.

Among other things the reverend gentleman said:

"Why should the day not be a holiday? Because that day was given by God for something higher and nobler. Seeing the needs of the people this day was set apart for a change of activities. You may on that day not only rest but refresh yourself with recreation pleasures. Take wheeling; if after working all week in the shop or other place of business, you take your wheel on Sunday afternoon and go out with the intention of refreshing yourself by filling your lungs with God's pure air and enjoy Heaven's sunshine and the beauties of nature, all well and good, but if you meet me don't slink away with your head hung down like a thief and say 'Here comes the Preacher,' but be a man and show that you are not ashamed to meet men. Say Hello! Mr. Knowles and I'll say Hello! to you. But if after you get back from your recreation and say that you are too tired to go to Church, then I'll have something else to say."

"In regard to Sunday base ball, let me say that I have not, am not, and never expect to be the enemy of young men. If the boys want to play a game of amateur base ball, let them do it rather than be doing something worse but go where you will not annoy anyone as it is against the law to be a nuisance and we want to be law abiding citizens. If boys must play base ball it is the fault of the parents who do not provide something else for their entertainment in better ways for if you do not make provision for them they will go where they can have amusement."

"Professional base ball on Sunday I have always been against, but only once have I made war on that and then not until the rights of working men were infringed upon. In a city in this state a place was about to be made for Sunday base ball. At first they were going to put it in the wealthy resident district and the people rose up and said no we won't have it and then it was to be put in the midst of the working men, and I said 'If it is not right to have it in the rich part of the city and they won't stand for it, then in the name of common sense and justice it is not right to have it among the working class and we won't.' Then the war was on and for two years was kept up and we didn't have it, there."

"Four things I am against and by God's help will fight: The saloon, the open gambling place, the God pity us, you call it the tender loin district, and Sunday professional base ball. I ask you if I am right or wrong. Will you stand by me and by the grace of God bring about a remedy for these things which ought not to be. Or will you like others, who for the sake of having the sanction of the sporting world, have persecuted me bitterly. The heart breaking part of it is that preachers, yes, and presiding elders, have done this very thing, men who profess to be doing God's service and yet upholding the very things for which Christ died to save the world from."

"Young men the future destiny of our country lies in your hands. What is it to be? Remember that if you would be noble in Heaven be noble here."

NEW CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL.

St. Paul Will Have One That Will Cost $3,000,000.

St. Paul, May 2.—The Kittson residence at Summit, Dayton and Selby avenues has been purchased by the archdiocese of St. Paul as the site for a new Catholic cathedral. The purchase was completed by Archbishop Ireland, who returned from a three weeks' trip in the East. The price paid is understood to be $52,000.

Archbishop Ireland believes that the time has come to build a cathedral in St. Paul, and although no definite plans have been adopted, it is understood that plans will be matured as rapidly as possible so that work can be begun this year. It is rumored that the new building will cost about $3,000,000, and that several years will be required for its completion.

COLLECTOR ENDS HIS LIFE.

Shoots Himself Through the Head With a Revolver.

Elk River, Minn., May 2.—A. B. Lawrence of St. Cloud, who is employed as collector for the Minneapolis Thresher company, committed suicide here Saturday night by shooting himself in his room at the Blatchett hotel. By his side was a forty-one caliber revolver. The bullet fired from the weapon had pierced the man's head. Lawrence had been dead at least fifteen hours when his body was found. No motive for the suicide is known.

Veteran Commits Suicide.

St. Paul, May 2.—Captain Irwin Y. Shelley, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, who left the soldiers' home at Minnehaha Park April 14 after a quarrel with the commandant over the rule prohibiting the introduction of whisky to the grounds, drowned himself in the river during the night. Coroner Miller decided it to be a case of suicide.

THROWN UPON THE STAGE.

The Way English Audiences Reward Popular Players With Gifts.

There have lately in the provinces been several sensational nights at prominent theaters when to mark the last performance of a local pantomime all manner of gifts have been thrown upon the stage for the benefit of popular performers.

All those acquainted for long with the inner life of the theatrical profession can tell some remarkable stories of these gifts cast upon the stage. The most celebrated and universal of these relates to a lady who once held the main portion of the lease of a prominent London theater. While this lady was still an actress only and not a manageress, an actress of great talent and beauty, there was one night on the first production of the piece a small bouquet cast upon the stage at her feet. Attached to the bouquet was a small Russia leather card case, and inside this were bank notes to the value of £1,000 exactly. On no fewer than seven different occasions, with a tolerably long interval between, did the same thing occur, and the lady, as alleged, has never from that day to this discovered who her admirer was, though all manner of romantic conjectures were made at the time.

Even within the last few weeks an unknown elderly gentleman threw an envelope weighted with pennies and containing a five pound note, to a tiny child performing in a London suburban pantomime. Some theaters have been celebrated for their gift nights, all manner of presents, from frying pans to green vegetables, having been gently deposited on the stage for the popular actors; yet, on the other hand, both writs and summonses have been handed to actors who could not be approached through the stage door, but who consented to receive presents over the footlights on their benefit nights.

The most curious sight the writer ever saw in connection with these gift throwing nights was in relation to a favorite actor who, at a great provincial theater, played during a long pantomime run the part of a parasite named Cadgi, who carried a pipe that had a huge bowl and whose oft repeated cry was, "Can any one oblige me with a bit o' bacca?" On the last night of the performance the familiar request for a "bit o' bacca" had no sooner been spoken than literally scores of packets and "screws" of tobacco of every imaginable kind were thrown upon the stage, more than 120 of these falling about the actor.—London Tit-Bits.

His Present.

"John," she said, "your little wifey has been saving up her money to buy you a nice present."

"Good little wifey," he replied.

"What is it?"

"A smoking jacket," she explained.

"And I saved the money all myself out of the house allowance. Wasn't I thoughtful?"

"Splendid!" he exclaimed.

"And now I wish you'd bring me home some more money tonight."

"What did you do with what I brought home last night?" he asked in some surprise.

"Oh, that's what I saved the smoking jacket money out of," she answered, "and there wasn't any left."—Chicago Post.

Not to Be Hushed.

Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island, who died at the age of ninety, refused up to the day of his death to accept the assistance of a condutor bishop, declaring that he was perfectly able to perform his duties and care for his people. At a meeting of the clergy in the last year of his life Archbishop Bryan was requested to call the meeting to order. The archdeacon arose and requested the delegates to give attention, remarking:

"The bishop wishes to say a few words."

"A few words, sir; a few words," interjected the bishop. "I would have it understood, sir, that the bishop will say as many words as he pleases."

The Benefits of Prayer.

"Now, honestly," said the unbeliever, "have you ever been helped by prayer? Can you point to a single instance in which you can truthfully say that praying has done you the slightest service?"

"I should say I could," replied the good old elder. "If I hadn't stopped to say my prayers the other morning I'd have caught the 7:40 train into the city, and instead of sixty-one passengers killed and injured in the wreck I'd have probably made the sixty-second."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Polite Butcher.

Boy (in butcher's shop)—My mother sent me back to let you see what a big bone there was in the pound of beef she bought last night, and she wants another pound without bones. Butcher—Tell your mother the next time I kill a cow without bones I'll send her a leg for nothing.

A Romancer.

"I see Jones is going to write a novel."

"I never thought he had imagination enough for that."

"The deuce he hasn't! He's been making out expense accounts for nearly eleven years."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Her Own Ticket.

"Well, of course, I don't know how the young man will turn out. Marriage is a lottery."

"Yes, mamma, but a girl should hardly be expected to let her mother select her ticket!"—Pittsburg Dispatch.
